Gordon:

I am not very enthusiastic about the attached. Offhand it seems to me that we have adequate means for internal awards which would enhance morale as much as----- if not more than----participation in these external programs. It is also possible that participation might be counterproductive since there would be so many people who couldn't compete for bona fide security reasons.

I would be glad to discuss this further with you if you feel strongly about it, or, it might be an appropriate subject for
